

Leading Independent Proxy Advisor Glass Lewis Recommends Mason Graphite Shareholders Vote on the Concerned Shareholder's BLUE Proxy

Montreal, Quebec, December 18, 2020 – Fahad Al-Tamimi ("Mr. Al-Tamimi" or the "Concerned Shareholder"), a director and the second largest shareholder of Mason Graphite Inc. (TSX.V: LLG) (OTCQX: MGPHF) ("Mason Graphite" or the "Company") holding approximately 9.92% of the outstanding Mason Graphite shares, today announced that leading independent proxy advisor Glass Lewis has recommended that Mason Graphite shareholders vote on the Concerned Shareholder's BLUE proxy FOR Mr. Al-Tamimi, Peter Damouni and Nav Dhaliwal at the Company's upcoming annual meeting scheduled for 10:00 a.m. (Montreal time) on Tuesday, December 29, 2020.

In its analysis of Mason Graphite's struggles under the management nominees and the opportunity for shareholders to elect the Concerned Shareholder's nominees to enact positive change, Glass Lewis notes Mason Graphite's "largely dismal returns profile, mixed strategic messaging, vacant leadership and, more recently, the board's reactive missteps." In addition, Glass Lewis states that "[w]ith a roiled trading price, an uncertain strategic tack, a shifting board dynamic and a still-vacant CEO position, [Mason Graphite] faces a set of potentially transformative resolutions from its second largest investor."

When it comes to the management nominees' lack of strategic execution, Glass Lewis had no shortage of criticism:

- "We thus consider shareholders may reasonably question the practical deftness of the current board's operational positioning, as well as its value creation bona fides. These doubts are redoubled with reference to the fact that the same suite of directors has been unable to source a permanent senior executive prepared to capably spearhead any current or prospective strategic initiatives for the benefit of all [Mason Graphite] investors."
- "These conditions seem to reinforce the notion that the pre-contest board was strategically adrift and relatively flat-footed."
- "As a less than favorable capstone on the matter, we are inclined to share Mr. Al-Tamimi's view that announcing the retention of an external strategic adviser more than a month after the Dissident's emergence and just three weeks prior to the AGM is fundamentally problematic. In direct terms, we expect a proactive board would typically be much better prepared to deflect concerns around strategic direction, and thus would not be particularly likely to resort to launching a major review process in the midst of a public lambasting by one of its largest shareholders. As it stands, then, the maneuver appears more closely akin to reactive and maladroit optics management, a circumstance worsened by the fact that the board's mandate to credibly undertake such a review is clearly the subject of fairly intense scrutiny here."

Vote for positive change by 5:00 p.m. (Montreal time) on Tuesday, December 22, 2020

The Concerned Shareholder wishes to remind shareholders to vote FOR the election of a refreshed board comprised of Messrs. Simon Marcotte, Tayfun Eldem, Nav Dhaliwal, Roy McDowall, Peter Damouni and Fahad Al-Tamimi, each of whom is highly qualified and competent, and to WITHHOLD on the election of Messrs. Gilles Gingras, François Laurin, Guy Chamard and Gaston A. Morin. Shareholders are encouraged to review the proxy materials and vote using the BLUE form of proxy or BLUE voting instruction form in accordance with the recommendation of Glass Lewis.
